INTRODUCTION:

Today thousands of people in Ontario are spending some or all of their time being artisans and craftsmen of various kinds and are finding it an honest and satisfying occupation.

Crafts, craftsmanship, work with the hands, heart and mind in concert is an activity which is gaining more and more popularity. Could it be because inexpensive mass-produced articles are available for every need, and we treasure work which bears the mark of real flesh and blood hands?

This booklet, now in its fifth edition, is a directory of some of these artisans; those who are most committed and who are able to deal directly with the public from their studios and showrooms. It will put you in touch with the maker of almost any object you can imagine and with many shops selling craft work.

Because Ontario is so large, the province has been divided into four areas, simply North, East, Central and Southwest. A map in the centre of the booklet will show you these divisions and also the locations of each city, town or village mentioned in the directory. There is a classified index at the back to direct you according to the kind of work done by each craftsman and also, for those who are interested, a list of most of the Craft Guilds and Organizations in the Province.
